

Kweebus - Job offer: nature educator - English speaking - Part time

Kweebus, a Montessori school in the forest located in Beersel (Belgium), is recruiting for September 2021 an English-speaking nature educator to supervise children aged between 2.5 and 12 years old in collaboration with a Montessori educator and about twenty children.

Founded in 2018 the Kweebus Montessori School is a small structure that currently welcomes about fifteen children aged between 2.5 and 6 years old. For the start of the 2021 school year, Kweebus is creating primary classes and opening a second class in a yurt in the forest.

Aiming at the blossoming of each child's personality, our pedagogical approach favors the autonomy of the students and their creative spirit, without neglecting the essential acquisitions:

- To help each child in his personal construction to give the best of himself,
- To encourage the child to show generosity, tolerance and responsibility,
- To encourage children to cooperate with each other and to stimulate mutual aid,
- Stimulate the children's curiosity, desire to learn and thirst for knowledge,
- To develop the self-confidence of each child.

Job description and missions

We are looking for a person who is passionate about nature and enjoys working in a team to accompany about twenty children aged 2.5 to 12 years in their discovery of the environment. Through your skills and your pedagogical actions, you will consolidate the children's self-confidence, reflection, and autonomy. You awaken their natural curiosity in the most benevolent way.

Your actions are in accordance with the principles of Montessori pedagogy, those of the Forest School, and respect the values that founded the school.

You will be supported in this mission by the director and our team of educators.
